MARDEN versus BURWASH

Played at Marden on Saturday, July 30th, 1791.

Scores unknown.

MATCH UNFINISHED.

Maidstone Journal, August 9th : At the close of the day, Burwash had 70 runs to win with 8 wickets in hand... “and the umpires declining to decide the game according to the agreement of both parties previous to beginning, the gentlemen of Marden with great civility offered to let the Burwash gentlemen off by putting 1/- into their pockets and spending another of the 2/6 for which they played: but the gentlemen of Burwash were so ungrateful as not to accept the proposal, unreasonably demanding of Marden to spend something with them! The uncommon civility of the Marden gentlemen throughout the day was very remarkable, in so much that when their own men were given out by the umpire, they did not contend more than half an hour for their going in again. It will be doing Messrs. D. & B. in particular a great piece of injustice, as well as the major part of the spectators, not to acknowledge the great encomiums due to them for the polite language with which they treated the Burwash gentlemen in the course of the day.”

PALMER WON BY 10 RUNS..

“The spectators were very numerous and respectable, and the game afforded much sport, the bets at the beginning were 5 to 4 in favour of Crawte, but after Palmer had got the first ten runs, they changed 2 to 1 in his favour; at the end of the first innings, they became equal again. After Palmer was out in the 2nd innings, bets changed 7 to 3 in favour of Crawte, who was bowled out third ball.”

“GENTLEMEN OF DEAL WON”.

The Returned match, for one guinea a man; wickets pitched a ten o'clock. Deal's second innings adds to 82. "... during the day (which was a fine one) much excellent and manly play was shown by both parties, giving the highest satisfaction and diversion to a very numerous company, which in point of numbers and respectability, far exceeded anything of a similar kind we have ever seen in these parts. Night coming on prevented the match being played out: the Folkestone 11 having 5 wickets to go down, and 114 runs to get." It is assumed that, given the state of play, the Gentlemen of Folkestone conceded the game.

ENGLAND WON BY FIVE WICKETS.

Played for 1,000 Guineas. Wickets pitched at ten o'clock. "An Ordinary on the ground, at two o'clock, by T. Boxall." The Kentish Gazette (28th August) advertised this match East Malling (with Amherst, Boxall, Robinson, Tufton, H. Walker and J. Walker) versus Kent (with Beldham, Harris, Louch, Small and Tufton) but not all of those players listed appeared. The opposing teams noted above are consistent with those used by Britcher and Scores and Biographies, though two Kent men (Ring and Russell, the latter of Rochester) appear for England.

MR. R. LEIGH'S SIDE WON BY AN INNINGS AND 98 RUNS.

Kentish Weekly Post (Friday, September 18th) : "Tuesday evening our sub-deputy, with some constables, paid an unwelcome visit to the cricketing ground at Dandelion, and secured an E. O ["Even Odd" gaming] table that had been in full trade for some days; the keepers &c. decamped in such haste, as to leave the stakes 17 or 18 pounds behind them. The constables brought the table in triumph to Margate, where it is to be destroyed."
